

GRAND HOTEL.
ESTABLISHED 1892

Welcome to the Heart of the Highlands

Imagine stepping into a timeless 5-star haven right in the heart of Nuwara Eliya. The Grand Hotel, Sri Lanka's very first certified heritage property, began life in 1824 as Barnes Hall, the home of British Governor Sir Edward Barnes and opened its doors as a hotel in 1892. Today, this elegant retreat blends its storied colonial past with modern comforts at every turn.

Here, you'll find 154 beautifully styled rooms, each thoughtfully appointed to honour the hotel's legacy while delivering contemporary luxury. Wander through our 4-acre English-style gardens, dotted with seasonal blooms and manicured lawns, then choose from 10 unique dining spots that range from cozy tearooms to sophisticated restaurants.

Renowned for its graceful architecture, engaging history, and warm service, the Grand Hotel stands on pillars of integrity, quality, and sustainability. Every detail celebrates both nature and heritage, inviting guests to relax, explore, and immerse themselves in Sri Lankan charm.

Perched at 6,200 feet above sea level, just six degrees north of the equator, this is more than a destination. It's an experience you (and your clients) will never forget.

Where Time Stands Still and Stories Live On

Let's take a stroll down memory lane. In 1819, Sir Edward Barnes commissioned Barnes Hall as his private residence, planting the seeds for what would become Nuwara Eliya's most beloved heritage landmark. Fast forward to 1891, when the Nuwara Eliya Hotels Company Limited transformed that stately home into the Grand Hotel, setting the stage for decades of elegance.

By the early 1900s, the hotel grew with a new Northern Wing and enhanced guest facilities. The arrival of the railway at Nanu Oya in 1903 and better roads opened the floodgates to travellers eager for cool mountain air and colonial charm.

Through the years, nobility, dignitaries, and wanderers from every corner of the globe have crossed our threshold. Mid-century renovations modernized our spaces while keeping that unmistakable colonial flair. Then, in 1987, visionaries Cornel Perera and George Ondaatjie led a major revival, restoring the Grand Hotel's prestige and profitability.

Today, we proudly hold the title of Sri Lanka's first certified heritage hotel, inviting guests to honour our past while savouring the finest modern luxuries. With 154 exquisite rooms and 10 distinct dining experiences, the Grand Hotel remains the crown jewel of "Little England."

GRAND HOTEL

Celebrated with Pride, Honoured with Heart

For over a hundred years, the Grand Hotel in Nuwara Eliya has been delighting guests with its signature blend of timeless elegance and heartfelt hospitality. Tucked away among misty hills and lush gardens, this iconic property continues to shine as a symbol of colonial charm infused with modern luxury, setting the gold standard for refined stays in Sri Lanka.

Over the decades, we've been honoured with a host of prestigious awards that speak to our unwavering commitment to excellence. From the TripAdvisor Travellers' Choice Award and Certificate of Excellence, to the Hotels.com Loved by Guests Award and the coveted World Luxury Hotel Award, each accolade reflects the care, precision, and grace we pour into every guest experience.

But it's not just about luxury, it's about responsibility, too. We're proud to be Travelife GOLD Certified, a recognition of our dedication to environmentally conscious and sustainable tourism. Our efforts span across energy and water conservation, smart waste management through our innovative 12R program, and meaningful community engagement projects that uplift local livelihoods.

And we're not stopping there. The Grand continues to evolve, offering curated experiences, exquisite cuisine, and personalized service that celebrate both tradition and innovation. Whether guests arrive seeking relaxation, romance, or adventure, every moment here is thoughtfully designed to be memorable, meaningful, and truly unforgettable.

GRAND HOTEL

Rooted in Responsibility, Growing with Purpose

At the Grand Hotel Nuwara Eliya, sustainability isn't just a buzzword, it's a way of life. We're proud to lead the charge in responsible hospitality through a robust Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) strategy, guided by our dedicated Sustainability Committee and aligned with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Our commitment is backed by globally respected certifications, including Travelife Gold, ISO 14001 for Environmental Management, ISO 9001 for Quality Management, and ISO 22000 for Food Safety. These benchmarks reflect our promise to uphold international standards while nurturing the planet and its people.

On the environmental front, we've embraced smart resource management with our 12R Concept and Green Bank initiative, both designed to minimize landfill waste and promote circular practices. We monitor energy and water usage closely, using low-impact systems to ensure our footprint stays light and our impact stays positive.

Socially, we're deeply invested in uplifting our local communities. Through inclusive hiring and procurement policies, and heartfelt initiatives like Change Hands—which repurposes high-quality linen for those in need—we're making a real difference in everyday lives.

And it's not just our team that's involved. Guests are invited to be part of our sustainability journey through regular training sessions and awareness campaigns across the property. Together, we're creating a space where luxury and responsibility go hand in hand, and where every stay supports a brighter, greener future.

In recognition of our dedication to Sustainability and our commitment to protecting the environment, we are proud to have received the Silver Award at the Presidential Environment Awards 2025, the highest honor received for the hotel category.

Golf in the Highlands

If your perfect day starts with dew on the fairway and ends with a fireside drink in a colonial clubhouse, then welcome to Nuwara Eliya Golf Club Sri Lanka's highland gem and a golfer's dream come true.

Nestled in the misty hills of the Central Highlands this historic course offers more than just a game. It's a journey through time and terrain. Established in 1889 by British tea planters, it's one of the oldest golf courses in Asia, and it still carries the charm of its colonial roots.

The 18-hole, par-71 layout is a delightful challenge. Rolling fairways, fast greens and cleverly placed hazards keep seasoned players engaged, while the natural contours of the land invite newcomers to enjoy the rhythm of the game. Every hole is a chance to pause, breathe in the cool mountain air and admire the sweeping views of tea estates and cypress groves.

After your round, step into the colonial-era clubhouse, a heritage landmark with warm hospitality and timeless elegance. Whether you're swapping stories over a drink or simply soaking in the ambiance, it's the perfect way to wind down.

And the best part? The course is just a five-minute stroll from the Grand Hotel. Whether you're here for a weekend escape or a longer retreat, golf fits seamlessly into your highland itinerary.

Getting Here: Your Journey to the Highlands

By Road

Located just 175 km from Colombo, Nuwara Eliya is easily reached via scenic drives from Kandy, Badulla, Haputale, and Hatton. The journey winds through emerald tea plantations and misty mountain passes and each bend reveals a new postcard-worthy view. It's not just a drive, it's part of the adventure.

By Rail

While Nuwara Eliya doesn't have its own station, the nearby Nanu Oya Station (just 10 km away) connects you to the iconic Colombo–Badulla railway line. This seven-hour journey is a visual feast, weaving through dramatic landscapes and highland charm. Once you arrive, it's a short scenic drive to the Grand Hotel.

By Air – Seaplane

Want to skip the road and soar instead? Seasonal seaplane services offer 25-minute flights from Colombo (Waters Edge) to Lake Gregory in Nuwara Eliya. Available during April, August and December, these chartered flights are a luxurious way to arrive while you capture stunning aerial views of mountains and tea fields below.

By Air – Helicopter

For the ultimate in comfort, helicopter transfers from Colombo take just 50–60 minutes, landing at the Nuwara Eliya Racecourse. That's just 500 meters from the hotel. It's a breathtaking journey that turns travel into an experience. Perfect for those who want to arrive in style.
